Making travel management easy!

The web-based travel management system onesto connects companies with travel agencies and providers of travel services. The uniform online booking infrastructure offers you the best possible transparency and saves time. This way, you can plan your business travel more efficiently and more conveniently – hotels, hire cars, flights and rail tickets can be quickly booked in accordance with your individual travel guidelines.

Convenience and tangible transparency

As the technology develops, individually made bookings have become the norm. However, conducting research and the lack of transparency requires so much effort that experts in travel agencies have become indispensable. With its transparent overview, the web-based travel management system is an optimal support tool for companies and travel agencies to offer an individualised trip quickly and without any complications.

In addition, onesto synchronises between user profiles and the travel agency so that the current status of the booking is always evident.
